

Refunding unused credit on a Visitor Oyster card

The pay as you go credit on a Visitor Oyster card never expires so you can keep your card until your next visit to London, or lend it to friends and family.

You can check the balance on your Visitor Oyster card before leaving London at a Tube, DLR or London Overground station ticket machine or at an Oyster Ticket Stop – you cannot do this from home.

To get a refund on any unused credit, you can:

1. Take your card to a Visitor Centre
2. Use a Tube station ticket machine for balances up to £10
3. Post your card to Transport for London

Please note that the £3 cost of the card is not refundable.

1 – Unused credit refunds at Visitor Centres

You can take your Visitor Oyster card to a Visitor Centre, to get a refund of any remaining credit. This will be paid in cash or refunded to your debit/credit card. The Visitor Oyster card will be returned to you for future use.

2 – Unused credit refunds at Tube station ticket machines

You can get a balance of up to £10 on your Visitor Oyster card refunded at Tube station ticket machines. Touch your card on the yellow card reader on the ticket machine, select 'Oyster refund' and follow the on screen instructions (available in different languages). You'll be shown the amount of the refund due, which will be paid back in cash dispensed from the ticket machine.

Please note that if you get a credit refund at a Tube station machine, your Visitor Oyster card will be returned to you but it will be cancelled, so you won't be able to use it again to travel. However, you can keep your card as a souvenir and still use it to take advantage of all the special offers and discounts available with a Visitor Oyster card.

3 – Unused credit refunds by post

To get a refund by post, you can send your Visitor Oyster card with a covering letter explaining why you're returning it to:

TfL Customer Services
14 Pier Walk
4th Floor
London SE10 0ES
United Kingdom

We will refund any credit by cheque in GBP. We cannot return your Visitor Oyster card.
